

This text is research based empirical data that was utilized to produce a Writ of Certiorari, for educational purposes to the United States Supreme Court, regarding the misconduct of FBI Agents and Directors and their judicial point of contacts. This text serves as a valuable contribution to the field of Education: Organizational Leadership, Organizational Culture, and Organizational Behavior, and further validates and substantiates the TESTIMONY OF JOHN E. ROBERTS, Unit Chief, Office of Professional Responsibility, Federal Bureau of Investigation Before the Senate Committee on the Judiciary July 18, 2001 who stated [sic] I appreciate the opportunity to appear before the Committee today to discuss what I believe are serious issues facing the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), and, in particular, what we can collectively do to make the FBI better, restoring credibility to this great organization. Of significant importance is the ability of the FBI to conduct aggressive, objective internal investigations of FBI employee misconduct. Therefore, the protection of those FBI employees assigned to conduct the internal affairs work for the FBI needs to be considered. If internal affairs employees are suffering for holding bad actors accountable; how much more are United States Citizens who are challenging the agencies wrongdoings? This action captures the inflicted actions of FBI agents who retaliated against the Petitioner and her family for challenging their wrongdoing and concealment of fraud in violation of 18 USC 1519 and Title VI.
